The link below is a link to register your lodging at T Bar M. Once on the T Bar M registration site, you may also see events listed that are open to the public, such as our summer camps and retreats. If you are interested in any of those, feel free to sign up for those as well. If you somehow get lost in the system, click back on the link listed here and it will get you back to the right spot to register for this event, which is not open to the public.

When the registration options appear, please choose the category that applies to you.
